MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 20 1892.

NO. 21

The Bremen, Herman Weesling and George Reed, who were injured in the Swift Rolling Mill explosion, have died of their injuries.

Toughs attempted to take possession of a mine office at Big Stone Gap, Va., but the man in the office killed two men, and the office was not disturbed.

Near the line between Knox and Clay counties, John H. Bewley and J. C. Asher were shot and instantly killed by unknown parties, who made good their escape.

Letters have been sent to various Agents of the counties asking that delegates be appointed who will meet in Lexington to day to consider the road law.

Sim Lewis's wife caused considerable excitement by going to the gambling house at 348 West Jefferson street, Louisville, the other night, and leading her husband out, after having thrown a chair through a window.

Harry M. Watkins, an employee of a Paducah manufactory has suddenly disappeared, leaving his wife without a word of explanation. His wife fears some harm has come to him, as he has never been a dissipated man.

Mr. George L. Willis, Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Times, and Miss Ruth Stanton, daughter of Mr. Henry T. Stanton, were married at Frankfort Wednesday evening. The wedding was a very handsome affair.

Chicago detectives unearthed a gigantic lottery fraud in a concern run by J. D. Sanger, who has been turning out thousands of bogus tickets in imitation of the Louisiana and other lottery companies and selling them at full price.

The Bourbon county bar gave an elegant dinner at Paris in honor of Judge Morton, of the Circuit Court, and Scott, of the Common Pleas, and Commonwealth's Attorney, then Mr. W. C. Cantrell and John K. Smith.

The bribery sensation at Covington, has collapsed. The indictment against Councilman Joe Baker has been dismissed. Attorney Druege, whose investigation the indictments had been issued, said that he had heard detectives make the charges.

It is now conceded at Washington that ex-Secretary Blaine is seriously ill, and his condition excites grave alarm. He is said to be growing weaker daily, and it is thought doubtful if he will recover sufficiently to be removed to a more salubrious climate.

The will of the late Amos Shinkle was filed for probate at Covington, Ky., Thursday. Its principal feature is the desire exhibited to keep up a perpetual landed estate in the family of the deceased. The estate is valued at between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000.

Thomas Richardson, of Paris, while turning home from work, was held up by two negroes and relieved of his watch and cash. After being released he turned back and again met the negroes, who seized and beat him frantically. He is in a serious condition.

Senator Randall Lee Gibson, of Louisiana, died at Hot Springs, Ark., Thursday, of heart disease, after weeks of affliction. He was conscious almost to the last, and requested that his body be brought to Kentucky, his native State, and buried by the side of his wife in Lexington.

At Birmingham Ala., after being out 19 hours, the jury in the case of J. DeWitt Boone against Robert W. Long, for damages for alleged alienation of the affection of the Plaintiff's wife by the defendant, returned a verdict for $2500 damages for the Plaintiff. All the parties concerned reside in Walker County.

John Henderson, a wayward Pennsylvania Sunday school superintendent, started out with a friend to investigate the crusade against the immoral houses at Pittsburgh. When they got in the gutter by the police he was stuck in a garb and in his pocket, in place of a roll of money, and was unable to give an account of his quest.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16, 1892.

Speaker Crisp's mail has been unusually large this week, owing to the unfortunate occurrence at the banquet of the New York Reform Club, but he still maintains the dignified position he has occupied from the first. He has made no complaint and will make none; and neither he nor his friends have ever even for a moment entertained the belief that President-elect Cleveland had any other connection with the banquet than that of the chief guest of honor. As usual, the Republicans have tried to make mountains out of mole hills, and to make it appear that the Democratic party was already divided into two great factions, with the President-elect at the head of one and the Speaker of the House at the head of the other. It is their wish to see the Democratic party divided that is fatal to the false statement.

Almost a sensation was created in the House when the Army Appropriation Bill, which was passed this week, was taken up for consideration by an amendment proposed by Representative Anthony, of Texas, providing that no payment of salary should be made from the appropriation to any person receiving a pension or allowance from the Government.

There is a bare possibility that the silver question may be taken up in the House this session, but it is not probable. The subject was discussed at a meeting of the House Coinage Committee this week, and in response to a proposition that the House be given an opportunity to vote on the bill proposing the repeal of the Sherman silver law, Mr. Bland said he was perfectly willing, provided that it be offered as an amendment to his free coinage bill, now on the calendar. After that afterwards the House be given an opportunity to vote on that measure. The committee will consider this proposition further at its next meeting.

Senator Vest's resolution, providing for a commission to negotiate an agreement with the five civilized tribes of Indians for them to take up land in severalty and sell the remainder to the Government so that it might be opened for settlement has been the basis of some interesting talk in the Senate, showing that while there are differences of opinion as to just how they shall be abolished there is practical unanimity in the belief that the present separate and independent government maintained by those Indians must give way to a Territorial government. The Senators express themselves as wishing that the logic of the situation will so impress itself upon the Indians that they will themselves see the wisdom of a change, and there are some who are ready to support a movement towards forcing a change, without regard to the wishes of the Indians.

The investigation of the present condition of the Treasury and the probable future revenues of the Government under existing laws, which the House has authorized the committee on Ways and Means to make will not begin until after the first of the year, as the committee has decided that it will save time and give a better basis to compute from to take their figures at the close of business on December 31, which ends the first half of the fiscal year. Meanwhile, members of the committee are hard at work to get themselves thoroughly posted in the matters with which the investigation will deal. Secretary Foster has informed the House Committee on Appropriations that there will surely be an available balance of as much as $20,000,000 in the Treasury at the close of the current fiscal year.

Senator Daniel has offered a resolution instructing the Civil Service Commission to publish a pamphlet giving in detail the offices in each department that are in the classified service and those outside of it; also a statement showing which States already have their full quota of Federal office-holders, and the number required to make up the quota of those which haven't their share. It is not probable that the Republican Senators will allow their resolution to go through, but if the information asked for was in print it would be a mighty interesting and useful document to those Democrats who have a hankering to get on Uncle Sam's pay-roll.

Notwithstanding the nearness of the end of this Administration, Mr. Harrison finds no difficulty in getting Republicans to accept appointment to office. Perhaps it is because they think that Republicans in prominent offices are to be very scarce for a generation to come that they are willing to accept office now, even when they know that they can only retain them for a few months.

The anti-option bill is slowly dragging along in the Senate. There are daily speeches on it, but it has been so much discussed that it is hard to say anything new about it.

A bill to increase the tax on whisky from 90 cents to $1.25 a gallon has been introduced in the House.

LIST OF PATENTS.

Granted to Kentucky inventors this week. Reported by C. A. Snow & Company, Solicitors of America and Foreign Patents: F. A. Ames, Owensboro, whip socket; W. E. Caldwell, Louisville, tower; W. S. Mandenhall, Covington, roll-paper cutter; Jas. O'Connell and G. E. Medcraft, Mt. Sterling, belting; D. J. Rogers, Lebanon, picture chiseler.

Mr. S. P. Baird, of Bethel, Bath county, has bought out Mr. W. B. Ratliff, grocer, of Carlisle, and will take charge of the business Jan. 1. Mr. Baird we have known for years, and no truer gentleman lives than he. A fine business man, and one of the strictest integrity, who in his thirty-two years of business experience in Bethel, has won a wide circle of friends, who are very loath to see him leave them. Mr. Baird will in a short time show the people of his new home how well worthy of their confidence he is. Carlisle will gain a good citizen, and one who will at all times be awake to the things that will be for the advancement of her business prosperity. We cordially commend him to the confidence and esteem of the people among whom he goes.

Mr. A. W. Basom, of Bath county, a sterling Democrat, a splendid business man and a gentleman of the highest integrity, is after Collier McDowell's scalp. He wants the place, and when the fight is on somebody is going to hear from Alf. Basom.

Mr. Basom twice represented his county in the lower House of the Legislature, (and he did it well, too), and no man in this section enjoys more suitably the confidence and esteem of the people than does Mr. B. He has a host of strong political friends, not only in this section, but all over the State, which will give him a strong pull for the position.

M. S. Tyler, C. A. Brooks and J. H. Hazelrigg are at Pineville representing the defendants in the Middleboro Company's suit for deferred payments on city property. Defendants refuse further payments because the Company has failed to comply with their contract, and will pray for judgement for damages, resulting from the Company's failure. A large number of suits have been brought, almost as many as lots sold, every sweet has its bitter, every boom its reaction, and this is only a realization of what we predicted. Middleboro after a few years litigation will assume an actual value basis and its progress will be gradual and sure.

Keep Out; Keep Out!

Don't be caught at J. W. Jones jewelry store this season. People who have gone in just to see, have failed to get out until they have made numerous purchases. They just can't stand the temptations. The handsomest goods ever brought to Mt. Sterling, more of them and at prices—well, he almost sells without a price. If holiday goods are purchased at every other place as at Mr. Jones, a slight of them will be sold. Remember if you go into his house you will buy.

James G. Blaine, honored and loved as a party leader is fast approaching the Jordan of death.

Vice-President Elect Stevenson's Proposed Southern Trip.

Adlai E. Stevenson started Sunday for his visit to Atlanta. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson, the Misses Mary, Julia and Letitia Stevenson, and his son Lewis, and by his cousin and law partner, James Stevenson Ewing, James W. Scott, of Chicago, and George B. Burnett, of St. Louis. They went via Louisville and Birmingham, and will stop at Anniston, Ala. Further than this no arrangements have been made.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

MONTGOMERY CIRCUIT COURT. Nov. Term—Dec. 8, 1892. We, the Grand Jury, submit this, our final report:

We have been in session for ten days, and have found about thirty-five indictments for various offenses.

Upon investigation we find the county jail in bad repair, and in only tolerably good condition. The pipe running from the lower cells to the sewer is not large enough to carry off the waste. Also, the stone ceiling in cell No. 1 is broken. The privy is in bad condition, and the windows in many of the cells are out, and in cold weather the prisoners are bound to suffer; therefore, we most earnestly recommend that all these necessary repairs be made without any more delay than is possible.

There are some complaints about soot from the smoke stack, which we think could be remedied by the jailer burning out the smoke stack some two or three times per week.

We find the Clerks' offices and accounts in good condition and well kept.

The clock on our Court House is out of repair and fails to keep the time. The dial on the east side has fallen out, but owing to litigation over the building of the Court House, we do not feel disposed to condemn the County Court for its present condition, but would most respectfully recommend that all necessary repairs be made as soon as the nature of the case will permit. We find that the sanitary condition of the Court House is not at all what it should be, and recommend that it be kept in a more cleanly condition.

We feel that our duty would not be performed without an expression of our approval of the official conduct and administration of the duties of the office of Circuit Judge by Hon. John E. Cooper, the present incumbent, and we congratulate the people of the county that the position is filled by one who is impartial and fearless in the administration of the law, and further, that he has been continued in office by the unanimous voice of the people of this judicial district, as expressed at the polls.

We would also bear witness to the fact that Hon. M. M. Redwine, Commonwealth's Attorney, has ably and efficiently discharged the duties of his office. We part with him with regret and commend him to the confidence and esteem of the people whom he is to serve officially in the future.

We would also witness the faithfulness and efficiency with which the duties of the offices of Sheriff and Circuit Clerk have been discharged, and in bidding them adieu would say: "Well done, good and faithful servants."

Most respectfully submitted,

B. F. WYATT, Foreman.

Circuit Court adjourned Saturday. Among other matters of importance the Court confirmed the commissioners' report of the sale of the Good-paster home place, but ordered a new sale for the 169 acres on Lullburg. The motion for a new trial in the Johnson-Turner suit was overruled. The pleading in the case of J. H. Walker against the county were not all made up, but the attorneys for the county made a tender, in open court of the amount of money awarded Walker by the board of arbitration. H. C. Turner of this county was appointed Receiver and Mr. A. W. Young of Rowan Master Commissioner of the Montgomery Circuit Court.

JUST AS YOU PLEASE.

But if You Don't Please to Go to J. W. Jones' Store You Will Fail to See the Handsome Holiday Goods Ever Brought to Mt. Sterling.

They are handsome, they are the latest, they are the cheapest. Hairpins of cut silver, mounted upon amber or shell; silver paper knives, stamp boxes, etc. Cut silver frames, for calendars and memorandum pads; silver bracelets of twisted wire in heavy and light patterns; exquisite mantle and comb and brush sets of sterling and plated silver; flower receptacles of glass, china and silver, for table decorations; elegant trays in silver; imported filigree hairpin boxes and hairpins in silver and gold; solid silver buttons; silver garbler buckles; solid silver spoons, tea, dessert and table; fine silver knives and forks, pearl handles; thinblades in silver and gold.

This is only a beginning of what he has in stock. Outside these lines see his handsome diamonds. Everybody who appreciates a diamond can secure one. Then see his fine watches, handsome pins, studs, etc. No wonder that all the people, rich and poor, are buying from J. W. Jones.

Some young white men, who live near Bethel, went to a negro dance on Saturday night, and became involved in a difficulty with some of the participants. March Evans, one of the white men and a negro were each slightly wounded.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Grassy Lick.

Mrs. Edgar Boyd is still confined to her bed. Wm. Dunn bought of J. A. Thompson his crop of tobacco at 9c. George May sold to T. J. Davis, of North Middletown, one pair of six-year-old horse mules at $200. A. S. Moore returned to George Hardman 22 acres of corn land at $175. Jas. W. Mason is building a stock and tobacco barn 50x65 ft. A. O'neal and Wm. Green shipped a carload of sheep and cattle to Cincinnati last Saturday. J. H. Mason sold to R. E. Gorman, of Covington, one 5-year-old horse mule at $100. Dick Robinson sold on last Wednesday seven acres of corn at $17, one cow for $20, and a lot of household goods belonging to Wm. Gatson.

Donaldson.

Mr. Breck Amey, of Hazel Green, is visiting his brother, Pres. Amey, at this place. Miss Eliza Nichols, of Thompson Station, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Peter Amey, at this place. Mr. Sam Ward is quite ill. Mrs. Ella Gregory, of Sideview, attended our Sunday school last Sunday. The school of this section is about all stripped out and ready for inspection. It's brighter in color than for some years. Our Sunday school was well attended last Sunday, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: John Wade, Sept. E. P. Gilford, Sec. E. P. Gilford's school at this place closes next Friday. Thos. Amey, of Wade's Mill, visited Joe Souper the past week. Hirs. Grimsland of Gilford will begin a protracted meeting Donaldson school-house Saturday, Dec. 24, to continue through Christmas week.

At a festival held near Cliffe, Todd county, Ed Dowdy was seriously injured by an unknown man, with whom he had a dispute.

A curious custom exists in southern India among some of the primitive non-Aryan tribes. This consists of wedding a girl to a plant, a tree, or an inanimate object, the notion being that ill-luck will be averted by a union of this kind.

One of the latest instances of the way in which women are forging ahead in educational matters is furnished by Miss Kathleen Murphy, of Dublin. During her examinations of the Royal University of Ireland, recently held, this young lady carried off the Studentship Prize in modern literature, which is worth $1500.

More than five months have now passed since Capt. J. W. Lawlor started from these shores in a 12-foot canvas boat, modified in the form of a big shoe, bound for Queenstown in England. The last tidings received from him was on July 30. Mrs. Lawlor thinks he is a captive in the hands of the natives on the coast of Newfoundland.

W. P. Oldham & CO.

Photographers No. 16, of Chicago, held a largely attended meeting Wednesday, at which the report of the letting of the contract for printing the World's Columbian Exposition Catalogue was discussed. The matter was preceded by a committee, and after a lively debate resolutions were unanimously adopted protesting against the award of the contract to the W. B. Conkey Company, on the ground that the firm is notorious as an employer of underpaid non-union labor, or to any firm employing non-union labor in all its departments.

It was decided to call W. B. Prescott, President of the International Union, from Indianapolis at once, to confer with the World's Fair officials, and endeavor to secure the award of the contract to some Union house. The Trades and Labor Assembly will hold a meeting to consider the subject. Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, telegraphed that the printers would have the support of his organization in the matter. The Union voted an appropriation of $5,000 to carry on the fight if it is found necessary to see that sum.

THE ADVOCATE.

Attempted Train Robbery, Near Huntington, West Virginia.

Shortly after twelve o'clock, on the morning of the 13 inst., as the F. V. V. the favorite train on the C. & O. was pulling out of Huntington, West Virginia, East bound, three robbers entered the first-class coach, one held the door from which they entered while the others passed firing two pistols, in order to intimidate, and ordering hands up. This did not work up to their expectations, on account of fearless men on board. One of the robbers was attacked by Oscar Trick, a German from Chicago, who with his betrothed, a German lady from Cincinnati, Miss Anna Ehler, were en route for Germany, where they were to be married, attacked one of the robbers and forcing him to the floor, advanced and although attacked by several passengers, after shooting one of them, Peter Drake, of Cincinnati, in the leg and foot reached Trick and placing the muzzle of his pistol near his face, fired a fatal shot, the ball entering near the eye, penetrating the brain, killing him almost instantly. By this time Collector Zingerly had secured a pistol and began to fire. Another one of the passengers struggled with the robber and succeeded in disarming him when he pulled the belt-ropes and as the train slowed up they left it and escaped into the dark, but not until Collector Zingerly had fired an effective shot, striking one of the robbers in the shoulder. The Collector and some of the passengers displayed grit and but for their courage, all passengers would have been relieved of their cash and valuables.

Burrell Forgy who lives not far from where the attempted robbery was made, claims to have been assassinated about this time at his home, has been identified as one of the robbers and is under arrest. This was one of the boldest attempts at robbery on record, and was evidently the work of amateurs.

How to Pack Meat.

After the hogs are cut up and left to cool, the meat is then salted by rubbing each piece over with borax, with salt, rubbing it in thoroughly; then it is packed in a box to drain, where it is left about two weeks. Then it is all taken out and rubbed over again carefully with salt, and if the meat is not from corn-fed hogs, about one ounce of saltpeter is added to the salt for each twenty pounds of meat. It is then left or packed the second time for about three weeks more. That is long enough for the meat of hogs weighing 250 pounds dressed.

The meat is then taken up and rinsed or rubbed off, and every piece is thoroughly rubbed over with borax, which is finely pulverized. We are careful to cover every part of the meat, thoroughly crowding the borax in every crevice or opening where the fly could possibly get to deposit its eggs. The meat is then hung up and smoked with green hickory or sassafras wood; or, corn cobs will do just as well.

After the meat is smoked, it is left hanging where it was smoked, and used as wanted. The fly will not disturb it, and meat will remain sweet until used, if that is two years, as the borax preserves it so it will not get strong or rancid as meat will do with age if not treated in this way.

We have tried every way we could hear of to keep our meat, and have found some objection to each method; but since we have used the borax on the meat we have no trouble in keeping it as long as we wish.—Ex.

There was a lively contest in the National House on Tuesday, between the Ways and Means Committee, and the Committee on Appropriations, each desiring the privilege of conducting an investigation into the condition of the Treasury. The honor was given the Ways and Means Committee.

Millionaire Armour, of Chicago, Monday made that city a gift by sending $1,500,000. This includes a new five-story building and an endowment of $1,400,000. The building will be known as the Armour Institute, and will be to Chicago what the Drexel Institute is to Philadelphia. Mr. Armour's gift came as a great surprise, inasmuch as he had not been connected with the new building and had not indicated that he intended making any gift to the city.

FARM NOTES.

Milk that is to be carried any distance before being set out to be aerated, that is, stirred and cooled down before setting. It will keep sweet longer and retain its best flavor. An elevated strainer is a good aerator. Be careful, however, to do the aerating in a clean place, free from foul odors; aerate and then cool.

The Philadelphia Farm Journal says: "The Bordeaux mixture, we guess, will have to go. The lime in it clogs the sprayer. There are other concoctions that are better."

Cooked food fattens more readily because it is more thoroughly digested.

Every man who drives a heavy team should have wide tires.

A small fruit farm, with poultry as an adjunct, will furnish pleasant and profitable occupation for a man of small means. The fruit farm alone will do this, but we mention the poultry in this connection, as they frequently prove a valuable aid in keeping down insects.

A good hay cutter and a little bran and water will make good milk even out of oat straw and coarse hay.

If you are not near a mill, or rates of grinding are high, whole corn will be digested by stock of all kinds about as well as meal if boiling water be poured over it and it be left to stand covered for twenty-four hours.

Figures furnished concerning the salt product of the United States make the production during the year 1891 10,225,091 barrels. About four-tenths of this is from Michigan, four-tenths from New York, not quite one-tenth from Kansas, and the remainder from Ohio, West Virginia, Louisiana, Utah, Nevada and Texas.

Fine Jack For Sale.

I will sell at a reasonable price, my fine black Jack, Greely. He is 15 hands high, of fine form, well bred, a sure foot getter, and a No. 1 performer, is just in his prime—seven years old. Here is an opportunity to secure one of the best Jacks in the State.

JOHN A. THOMPSON,
Mt. Sterling, Ky.

E. L. Beard, of Locust, W. Va., has just recovered from a remarkable surgical operation, performed at the Johns-Hopkins University, in Baltimore. On September 24 he swallowed a peach stone, which lodged in his esophagus. Drs. Balsam and Harker cut an entrance into the esophagus. Then a string with a snare arrangement was taken in at the mouth, swallowed, and fastened to the peach stone and the obstruction was thus removed through the mouth.

WANTED HER "MAMMIE"

With her oilcloth grip-sack in her hand, and dressed in blackwoods costume of inharmonious colors, Miss Mary Riley presented an attractive rural appearance as she stumbled into the Charity Organization's office this morning. She wanted a pass to Mt. Sterling. She had been in Louisville since "corn was so high," illustrating by placing her hand about six inches from the floor. In other words she has been in the county jail since last May awaiting to be tried for moonshining. She said all she did was to sell a pint of whisky, not knowing that she was violating the law.

Miss Riley was released from jail five weeks ago. She then secured employment as a cook on a small steamer. In this vocation she said she had been unjustly treated. Miss Riley is twenty-seven years old, and frequently informed the Charity Organization authorities that she wanted to be sent to her "mammie." The unfortunate "girl" said she lived at Ticktown, which is about seven miles from Mt. Sterling. The Ticktown belle was informed that she would be harbored until employment could be secured for her, but this she declined, repeating that she wanted to go to her "mammie" right away.—Louisville Times, Dec. 13.

The first funeral on bicycles occurred a few days ago at Redditch, Eng. C. James, captain of the local bicycling club, just before his death requested that his body be conveyed to the grave on bicycles. In accordance with this wish, the coffin was laid upon a platform erected upon four bicycles, four men in the uniform of the club acting as bearers. Preceding this peculiar hearse was a strong contingent of members of the club, all riding their wheels. A great concourse of spectators lined the route.

Broad Tires.

It is evident that broad wagon tires will not repair roads, although they may help preserve them in a better condition, while narrow tires rut them badly. But a road for broad tires needs to be kept free from stones, as the broad tires will not knock them one side as readily as the narrow. A medium, all things considered, is the best one in the present condition of the roads. Wide tires are best on the farm.—Mirror and Farmer.

The Courier-Journal calls one McCann, whom President Harrison has nominated for a position on the Supreme Court Bench of the District of Columbia, "a good man to beat." He is nothing but a machine politician of a most unsavory stamp, relying solely upon his record as an insidious partisan attorney for his position. The chances are very good, fortunately, for a defeat in the senate of his confirmation.

Senator Hill's attention being called to a Washington dispatch to the effect that he had been offered a Cabinet position, at first declined to discuss the matter, but finally consented to state that that he had not been offered a Cabinet portfolio by Mr. Cleveland, and did not expect to be offered one.

President-elect Cleveland pronounces the report that he contemplates making Senator Hill Secretary of State "stupid."

The question of a restriction of immigration is becoming a serious one. That we need some such legislation along this line seems to be universally admitted. The Haymarket affair in Chicago and our later troubles with these red-mouthed Anarchists, the terrible Mafia affair in New Orleans, all have emphasized the matter, and the past summer the cholera, together with the menace it holds to us in the future, has seemed to bring us with startling suddenness face to face with the question. The trouble seems to be that our gates have in the past been too wide open, and now an attempt to properly restrict the passage through them may go too far, and keep out a class of citizens we would gladly welcome to our shores. But the menace both from an influx of the criminal classes and from the plague infected districts is so great that something must be done.

One of Bath county's sterling Democrats came into our office Wednesday, and after some friendly greetings, said: "Down our way we love you for the enemies you have made. The Advocate made such a magnificent fight in the Hazelrigg-Holt race that we feel like showing our appreciation of its work." With that he laid on our desk a list of names, with the money to pay for the subscription planned to the paper. The Democratic friends of the Advocate have been standing by us most nobly all the time during and since the campaign. A number of the staunchest and most financially responsible Democrats in this section came to us some time ago and said: "Keep a list of every Republican who discontinues his paper, and we will see to it that two Democratic names go on your list for each discontinuance. We will need the Advocate in future contests, and propose to support it so it will be the better prepared to fight our battles when we shall stand in need of it." Let Democrats everywhere do this for the Democratic papers just what our friends are doing for us. You expect these same papers to do a vast amount of work for you in a campaign and, if you liberally support them, you have a right to such work. But if the Democratic support is only given in a half hearted way, and if the patronage you can give is as often thrown to a Republican organ, you are only shedding the Sampson that should do battle for you, and placing a Hercules' club in the hands of your adversary. Democrats, support your papers; it will pay you well in an hour of their need.

There is a vast amount of indignation among the local bar and the business men of this city and county over the action of Judge John E. Cooper, in appointing Mr. Allie W. Young Master Commissioner of the Montgomery Circuit Court. As to Mr. H. Clay Truett's appointment as Recorder, for the same Court, everyone is satisfied, for besides being a citizen of the county where he is thoroughly identified in interest, he is a splendid business man. As to Mr. Young personally, there is also no objection, nor does anyone blame him for accepting a good thing when he could get it. But he is not, or was not, till within a day or two, (so far as the knowledge of the people at large goes) a citizen of this county. In appointing Mr. Young, Judge Cooper has made one of the gravest political mistakes of his life. The people of the county think he has offered them a personal affront in going beyond their borders to find a man suitable for the position. If Judge Cooper did not have a friend within the county who was qualified to fill the position, then he should cease to live among such a people.

Judge Cooper has been honored by this county with its strong support, and it is certainly in very bad taste for him to go to another county for a man to fill the responsible position of Master Commissioner of his Court. We are informed that Judge Cooper did this advisedly; that it was represented to him it was in bad taste, and was a piece of business that would likely cost him dear. In the face of the fact that the people of the county would resent such action on his part, Judge Cooper chose to make the objectionable appointment, and now he must take the consequences. We are for our own people, first, last and all the time, and we are firmly persuaded that Montgomery county has plenty of men, fully competent to fill all the offices within her borders without calling on a sister county for aid.

"Will it be Butterworth or McKinley?" is the significant question in the editorial column of the Toledo Commercial that excites comment in political circles here, and indicates a movement to displace the Governor with some Republican less radical on the protective tariff question.—Commercial-Gazette.

Ohio Republicans want a change, not altogether, but just enough to recover lost suffrage. They think a little less McKinleyism might do it as to the tariff question, but then, the Force Bill! oh, my, what will they do with it? It is worse than the Gazette and its negro. It will not down, and respectable Republicans are shocked. Republicans have had a national hair, and have been forever shorn of their strength.

The people of the country on Nov. 8, placed the Democratic party in power, to take effect March 4th next, by a majority that absolutely outvoted both winners and losers in the contest. This was a notice served on the politicians of the country, that those who cast the ballots demanded a change in the management and policy of the Government. The majority was so pronounced that it is impossible for the Democratic party to pretend that it does not understand its import. The robber tariff the pension frauds, the national election law the reckless extravagance in the way of subsidies, etc., were the market prominent issues of the campaign. The people want a CHANGE in these things, and want it now. From all over the country comes the call for an extra session of Congress, but some politicians are so tenderfooted that they are for putting off till December the meeting of the next Congress, thus relieving upon the people the endurance of these injustices for a yet longer period than is necessary. Do we intend to keep the promises made to the people when we went before them, asking them to place our party in power? Or, are we afraid to attack the monstrous evils that are confronting us?

These are questions that, unless they are answered to the satisfaction of the voters of this nation, will cost the Democratic party dear, two years hence. If the Democrats haven't the courage to carry out their promises then the party is doomed, and we had as well face the fact as last. "If the party cannot trust itself, how can it ask the people to trust it?" The people are determined to have these evils remedied and remedied promptly, and unless the Democratic leaders show a disposition to give relief, there will be some statesmen out of a job at the very first opportunity the voters get at them.

Mr. George E. Coleman, the popular Railroad Agent at this place, has resigned. His resignation is to take effect not later than January 1st. Mr. Coleman's successor has not as yet been determined upon, though Mr. Claude Paxton is mentioned in this connection. Mr. Coleman's intention when he sent in his resignation was, at once, accept one of three lucrative positions, he had open to him. There is one especially flattering offer he has on the Pacific Slope, that would tempt almost any one. He is a business man of splendid fitness, and his extensive service has given him a wide acquaintance in railroad circles, where he is as highly esteemed as by the friends here, who have known him since his early boyhood.

Since it became known that Mr. Coleman had tendered his resignation, a strong pressure has been brought to bear on him, to induce him to engage in other business in this city. There are some family reasons why, just at present, he should not leave Mt. Sterling, but whether they will be sufficient to induce him to change his mind and stay among us, we are not advised. Mr. Coleman's long and close study of railroad matters, together with his pluck, energy and fine social qualities are sure to make him a success on any road that may be fortunate enough to secure his services.

William Jones, who died at Hardwick Creek 11th inst., was about 60 years of age and weighed about 80 pounds. There was a large crowd in town yesterday, (Court day). Many horses on the market, mostly pluge; 25 horses sold well; pluge very low; and cattle market active; a good supply on hand; nearly all sold except a few common ones; good cattle brought $12 to $15; common sold low. Joe Turkey bought of different parties 60 hogs at $4c.

It doesn't matter whether I survive or perish, the man in the people who trade in my line is the best and purest of goods for the least money. I make my own candles; I know they are pure and the people say they suit their taste. In this line I make every kind known to the trade, and as proof of how I take I can hardly make it as fast as I can sell it. My candles are fresher and I give about twice as much for the dollar. Young ladies or gentlemen desiring packages can get their goods according to order. Fresh fruits, domestic and foreign, delicious apples, fine Florida oranges, grape fruit, tangerines, etc.; raisins, dates, figs, nuts of all kinds. The goods I handle are as desirable as can be found in any fancy confectionery in the large cities.

Persons desiring orders filled should leave them early. Don't wait till the last moment when the stock is broken. I have been handling fruit and making candies for 20 years, and am an expert in my business. I serve oysters in all styles. E. B. DUBB.

Christmas Gift.

The time for buying toys—something that just pleases the eye—is waning. Think of it! Mother goes to the toy store and buys for her seven children of such goods that average in cost $2.00 each, $14.00. Take this money and go to W. A. Sutton's and see how many nice chairs you can buy, how many nice tables. It will buy a wardrobe, or a sideboard, or a book case, and would go a long way towards buying a handsome set of furniture. Also consider the value and prices of rugs, mirrors, hat racks, etc. Any goods bought at this place will be worth the money, and will be articles that will ornament your home.

True Christmas.

Eighteen hundred and ninety three years ago, almighty God, the Creator and Ruler of man, made the first and greatest Christmas present that has ever been given in the person of his blessed Son. Since that time the human family guided by the warmer and better elements of their nature, have celebrated this anniversary by making gifts one to another. Now within the next few days, you must needs make a selection for your loved ones and friends and in so doing, you will find at Ed. Mitchell's Hardware Store, a fine present, both ornamental and useful. He has a complete line of fine china, glassware, queensware, fancy tableware, as well as a very attractive line of lamps, pocket and table cutlery, and every thing usually found in a first-class hardware store. Mr. Mitchell has made a specialty of "World's Fair Souvenir" ware in fine china, which is very attractive. Don't fail to see his goods before making your purchase. Everything at the lowest prices. Ed Mitchell studies the needs of the people, and he has the goods for them.

AT W. S. LLOYD'S.

Great Goodness! What a Sight!

Mr. Lloyd always has a big line of fine holiday goods, but this year he has a larger and finer assortment than ever. We mention a few of the many articles he has in store. Should we spend a column or so, or even a page, in telling the people of the elegant gifts we would find. The only way to appreciate this immense stock of attractive beauties is to see them.

We cannot undertake to describe the beautiful work of the "art preserver" shown in this card. Its attractive but not gaudy, and every letter seems to be of the right font and at the right place. We thank the Advocate Company heartily for this evidence of their esteem and we don't believe there is in the State of Kentucky, outside of Louisville, a better equipped job office than the Advocate Job Printing Office. It has lately added a splendid new press and a new line of the very latest type, and with two splendid presses and one of the best job printers in the State, Mr. Schorn (as his work shows), there is no reason why the Advocate Company should not have all the work it can do in the job department. If anyone who wants fine printing should cast his eye on this it should not take a brick-bat to make him tumble—Sentinel-Democrat.

The New York Sun estimates that 20,000 flasks were emptied during the recent foot-ball game in that city between Yale and Princeton. "Altogether, it was the greatest day for public drinking that New York has seen. There is nothing like it on any other day of the year. Even the took pulls at flasks offered by the cavaliers and not a single case of drunkenness called for police attention. Other reports, however tell of a riotous and disgraceful to the end of the season."

Nubia wrote a letter. Fifteen hundred years B. C. an Egyptian King wrote to the King of Babylon for a wife, and at the same time took occasion to refer to some details of a domestic scandal. The letter was written on a tablet, and the British Museum has it.

Archbishop Ireland has been asked to remove the pane of glass in the window in Canton Minn., alleged to contain the images of Mary and the Christ child. The city is threatened with the crippled and infirm who are daily being cured, and the archbishop the church is to abate the annoyance.

Four years ago, it is said General Sherman went to bed on the night of Dec. 1 before he knew the result. The office of General Hancock declared the latter went to bed at 7 o'clock the evening on election day, 1880, and too tired to await news. Next day he awoke at dawn and asked a right were any definite tidings.

Occasionally, "Yes, you are best," he answered over and went to sleep. As a public man of affairs, Harry Campbell the San Francisco elegant suit you, and is offering very cheap. The hams, crabs, sup you well.

Electrical Heating.

The "deadly stove" problem, which has excited such wide-spread interest and discussion among railroad men for years, seems to be capable of solution in the use of electrical heating. On lines electrically propelled, the matter of methods of installing a heating apparatus is immensely simplified. On steam roads, however, the fact that a more elaborate apparatus for generating the electricity is required, becomes an obstacle which some of our best electrical engineers are engaged in overcoming. Some good work in this direction has, we understand, been done by the Railway Equipment Company, of Chicago, and by Mr. T. Ahearn of Ottawa, Ont., the latter, by the way, being about to give an exhibition of the various ways in which the electric current may be used for heating purposes at the coming fair in Ottawa. The question is not essentially one for economy, but rather of the safety of patrons of the road. In case of railroad accidents, we all know that the stove becomes an engine of death, and where steam heating is used, the danger is only a degree less. The use of the electric current for heating, certainly precludes all but the remotest possibility of harm arising from the heating apparatus, and we believe that the railway companies of the country would gladly adopt any feasible device looking to this end, provided that the cost be within reason. We have heard enough of the death-dealing qualities of electricity, now let us have some adoption of the same for the purpose of preserving life, and there is none more practical and feasible than its use for heating our railway cars. Then, and not till then, shall we cease to hear of "voluntary cremations" and deaths from "scalding," etc., in the midst of railroad accidents, which would otherwise be far less fatal in their effects.—Practical Electricity.

As Bad as Cincinnati Whisky.
The only venomous bird known is the Raptor "Doob," or "Bird of Death," a native of New Guinea. It is the size of a pigeon, can fly only a foot, and is easily caught. Its bite causes excruciating pain, loss of sight, and sometimes lockjaw. No person bitten by it has recovered, and death comes within two hours.

The salary of the Prince of Wales is $200,000 per year; Duke of Connaught, $125,000; Duke of Edinburgh, $125,000, and the Duke of Cambridge, the Queen's cousin, $60,000. The royal family costs the British taxpayers $400,000 a week.

The whisky Trust has declared a one and one-half per cent quarterly dividend payable January 3. The reason given for the recent heavy purchases of whisky is that the Board of Directors thought that the status of the Government finances would render inevitable the agitation of the proposition to increase the whisky tax.

Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers. For cure of headache, constipation and indigestion try Electric Bitters—entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore. 5

With A Wild Yell.

She came into the weary literary editor's office the other afternoon with a huge manuscript under her arm, saying in exchange, drawing a chair to the desk, she shoved paste pot, scissors, manuscripts and clippings aside and unrolled the rubber that held the roll together and carefully spread it out. With a glib and easy air she said:

"I have a poem which I wish you to read at once. Now I am not going to let you have this for nothing; if you like it, you must pay me well for it."

"But, madam, I have not time to read your manuscript now," replied the editor.

"Never mind," she replied cheerfully, "I will read it for you; there are only 206 stanzas; it will not take you long."

"Great Heavens, woman! do you imagine that any newspaper could print a dedication or byword of 'Don Juan' every day?"

"Ah! yes; I have thought of that. It may be too long for your columns, but just note my bright idea. I have written this poem in such a way that you can cut out each alternate stanza, and it will make just as good sense as though they were there."

With a wild yell the literary editor fled, glancing into the street. When last seen, confused and hatless, he was running in the direction of Kankakee.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Hoffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better, he continued to use it and is today enjoying good health. If you have any throat, lung or chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore. 5

Our Costly Scandal.

We pay the Germans for their military hurbles, but their soldiers are at least real. Yet their living army costs $80,000,000, while our shadowy troops involve an expenditure of $200,000,000. Our own army costs $50,000,000. It has ceased to be necessary to argue about this colossal scandal. It is necessary to do no more than point to the demonstrative figures.—Brooklyn Eagle.

At Newport last week, a boiler exploded in Swifts Rolling Mill. Two workmen, Henry Leslie and White Reed were badly injured. Damage to property $15,000.

THE ADVOCATE.

In the Georgia Senate the bill accepting the home for Confederate veterans, offered as a gift to the Legislature, was killed by a vote of twenty-three to sixteen.

A frightful explosion took place in the Bamfurlong colliery in Lancashire, England, and between fifty and one hundred men were instantly killed or were suffocated.

Richard Simms, of Cythiana, undertook to pick up an electric light wire that had come in contact with a telephone wire, and had been burned off. The shock killed him instantly.

The Emperor of Anam, who has been mentioned so often in the foreign papers recently, has now 200 wives, each of whom with her servants, lives in a house in the palace garden which is surrounded by a great wall.

Charles D. Young, a boy of 12, of Denver, Colo., has built what his friends claim to be the smallest coal-burning locomotive in the world. The engine is said to be five feet long and weighs 235 pounds.

Representative Scott, of Illinois who introduced the bill increasing the tax on distilled spirits to $1.25, estimates that $35,000,000 would be added to the Government revenue should his measure be adopted.

It has been decided to invite Mr. Cleveland to make an address at the opening of the Columbian exposition next May and to touch the button that will set the machinery of the fair in motion.

North Dakota will this year present an anomaly in the Electoral College. Harrison, Cleveland and Weaver will each receive one vote. The State Board of Canvassers has declared Wamberg (Republican), elected by eight majority, Williams (Fusion) by fourteen majority, and Runderdelt (Fusion) by 161 majority. The first named will vote for Harrison, the second for Weaver and the last for Cleveland.

The officials of the Pennsylvania and Long Island Railroads held a conference Wednesday, considering the construction of a railroad tunnel to connect Brooklyn, New York and Jersey City. It was the unanimous sense of the officials that the tunnel be built from Long Island Station in Brooklyn to Maiden Lane, in New York, under it and Cortlandt Street to the North River, and thence to Jersey City and the Pennsylvania terminal.

At Bowling Green on Wednesday an unknown negro entered the house of Miss Kate Anderson, where she was alone and eating her, attempted an infamous assault upon her person, at the same time telling her he would kill her if she screamed. The delicate girl fought the brute and made all the outcry possible, when the black villain cut a severe gash in her throat and escaped. A number of negroes are under arrest, and a lynching is promised if the brute can be positively identified.

The Superior Court of Missouri has decided that the Queen and Crescent Railroad Company is liable for the over-issue of stock made by its late Secretary, George M. Dougherty. The President had signed the stock certificates in blank, and Secretary Dougherty filled them out to suit himself and disposed of $250,000 worth. The holders of the certificates, the court rules, may recover from the company the full market value of the stock at the time they first demanded it.

The failure of Lipman & Company, manufacturers of burials, of Dundee, Scotland, with liabilities reported at $1,250,000, has occasioned much comment in the trade in New York, as the firm had a selling branch in that city for the past 13 years. The firm went away into buying burials some time ago, and the market has gone against them considerably. All goods sold in this country were sold at the New York office, and it is thought that the outstanding accounts principal assets here.

Oregon Pacific bondholders met today to devise a plan to retain control of the road. The sale of the bonds has been ordered by the courts to take place Jan. 15. The minimum price of $1,250,000 has been appointed by a committee and report on the sale of the bonds to be made on Jan. 15. The sale of the bonds is to be made on a pro rata, so as to be equal to $1,250,000 of the road.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

W. W. Park refused $100 per acre for a part of his farm. Estill county has some pretty good land—Mountain Sentinel.

Mr. J. Q. Stephens bought the James Hon farm, 93 acres, on Brush Creek at Commissioners sale last June court at $2,450, and sold it the first of December for $3,500, a profit of $850. In addition to this he gets a portion of the rents. This is the way an old reliable citizen invests. No Middleboro, no Alexandria real estate in his.

The apple crop of England is reported very light: that of France is light, and of Holland very small. Belgium has a good crop, Germany poor—not nearly enough for its own use.

E. B. Carver has contracted for 3,500 steer yearlings, and wants 1,500 more. He will put these 5,000 yearlings along with a like number of cows in the Indian Territory next spring. The cows will be marketed out during the season, while the steers will be held until they are three years old and ready for beef—Texas Journal.

Prewitt & Woods bought 18 hogs, 150 pounds average, from Byers Beazley, of Lincoln, at 5c. per pound; 10 shoats, to be delivered any time in April, and not to weigh less than 100 pounds, from Joe Harlan, at 5c., and 175 fat hogs from Morris Farris at 5c.—Danville Advocate.
